PRODUCER INFO

What Is The Harvest Hub?

The Harvest Hub is a secure, centralized, cold storage facility in downtown Squamish. It is a shared storage and distribution resource designed to support local food businesses and strengthen the regional food economy.

Two Ways to Use the Hub:

Harvest Hub Storage

- Rent short-term storage space (freezer, cooler, pantry) to independently fulfill orders for customer pickups.
- Ideal for:
 - CSA share pickups
 - Businesses with an existing online or phone ordering system
 - Businesses that want the flexibility to schedule pickups on their own timeline
 - Wholesale/ high volume order fulfillment
- Customers place orders directly with your business and pick them up at the Harvest Hub.
- Rates: $15–$25 per day.

Harvest Hub Online Marketplace

- Facilitate sales through our online marketplace (Homegrown.food), customer pick up at the Hub.
- Get notified of orders throughout the weekend, deliver to the Hub on Tuesdays, customers pick up on Wednesday.
- No commitment to weekly storage rates; only pay when you make sales.
- Gives customers the opportunity to buy from many producers via one online platform and pick up location.
- Cost structure: 10% marketplace fee + Square processing fee
- Support from Harvest Hub staff to organize orders

What will we need to participate?

1. Certificate of Insurance
2. Signed Tenancy Agreement
3. Business License
4. Relevant Food Business Certifications

How Will the Harvest Hub Ensure Security?

- Insulated construction for year-round temperature stability.
- Shelving systems designed to maintain airflow and optimal product storage.
- Built-in cooling and temperature monitoring with automated data tracking.
- Restricted access via digital keypad entry and four surveillance cameras for secure, traceable use.
- While the facility operates without full-time staff, a team member visits multiple times per week to maintain the space, ensure cleanliness, and manage any missed orders.

Are There Limitations On What Can Be Offered?

Yes. The most notable difference between The Harvest Hub (regulated as a food premise) and a farmers market (regulated as a temporary market) is that:

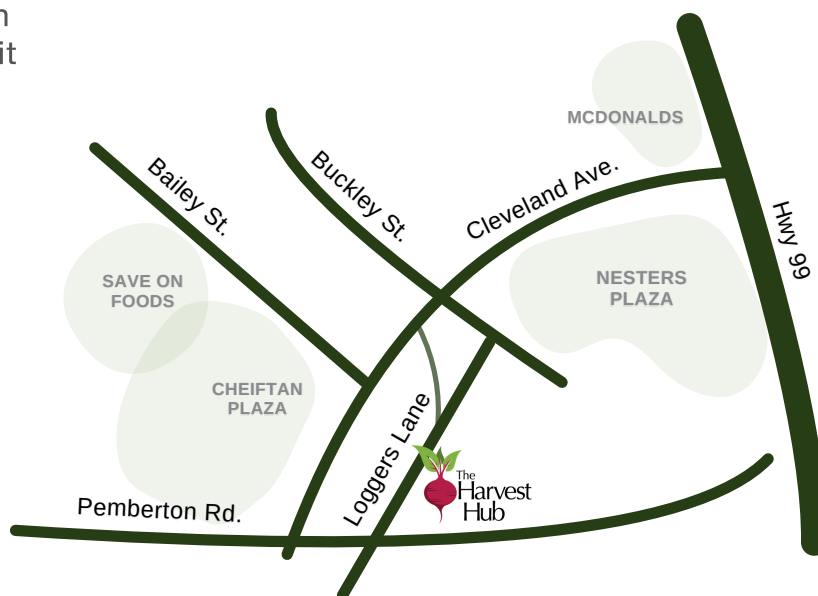

- Eggs must be graded*
- Meat producers must provide a FarmGate Plus license
- All producers must be an authorized food producer by their local health authority and will have to upload relevant documentation

*We will work to change the regulation surrounding graded eggs as we know it is an obstacle for small scale farms.

When Can We Start Using the Space?

As soon as you would like! We are still figuring out the relationship with Homegrown, but we are open for business to book storage space.

If you would like to be a participating vendor at the facility please email us at harvesthub@squamishcan.net to get started.

Who Operates The Hub?

The Hub is operated by Squamish Climate Action Network (Squamish CAN). Squamish CAN's mission is to empower our community with just and actionable solutions to the climate crisis through education, policy development and systems change. The Harvest Hub is a top priority project in executing the Squamish Valley Agriculture Plan, in collaboration with the District of Squamish and Squamish Lillooet Regional District Area D.
